Please build the evidence before anyone drafts the response

Hi,

This came up in a working session and nobody had the same definition.

A customer dispute cannot be assessed from the complaint text alone because authorisation, posting, reversal and contact dates differ.

I do not want a dashboard that simply counts the outcome. Start with the competing explanations: the complaint outcome does not match the underlying evidence; a bank-side delay caused the loss; or the customer saw a temporary posting as final.

Please start with the decision we need to make, then show whether the available evidence is strong enough to support it.

What we need to decide is the evidence position and whether remediation should precede correspondence. Please bring a Power BI page with drill-through to a reproducible case list, including a few cases we can trace from source to conclusion.

The available evidence is transaction-level timestamps, channels, amounts, statuses and error context; customer contacts, complaints and suggestions; ATM attempts, host responses, PIN attempts, blocked-card state and latency. Use statements only where they exist and do not invent merchant evidence or call recordings.

Thank you
