Are we growing, or only creating more activity?

Hi team,

The headline activity story is positive, but EXCO cannot tell whether it reflects durable customer relationships or short-lived transaction volume.

Please start with the decision we need to make, then show whether the available evidence is strong enough to support it.

Can you test these explanations rather than choosing one at the start?

- new accounts are becoming primary relationships
- service failures are creating volume without creating value
- activity is concentrated in a small set of customers

The decision is where to invest and which headline measure should be retired from the management pack. Please give us a one-page finding note plus the underlying CSV for our own review.

You should be able to build the evidence from monthly account snapshots, status events, limits, product enrolments and signatories; transaction-level timestamps, channels, amounts, statuses and error context; customer contacts, complaints and suggestions; campaign design and customer responses. Do not describe account activity as profitability; the data does not contain a full revenue and cost allocation.

Thanks
