Before Legal responds, show exactly what happened to the account

Team,

Before this becomes another standing report, can we answer the real question?

Legal needs a chronology for accounts closed or restricted where transactions, debit orders or customer contacts continued around the status change. The possible stories are that downstream activity continued after the status event, that the closure was operationally complete, or that the main risk is poor communication rather than an incorrect decision.

Failure anecdotes are beginning to drive decisions, although retries and late posting may be making the problem look larger than the affected-customer population.

Please prepare a short decision pack with no more than five slides and an attached evidence table. The output must help us decide whether the matter can be answered, remediated or requires formal legal review.

Data available: monthly account snapshots, status events, limits, product enrolments and signatories; transaction-level timestamps, channels, amounts, statuses and error context; debit-order mandates, collection dates, suspensions and cancellations; customer contacts, complaints and suggestions.

Please state the limitation plainly: The analysis can reconstruct events; it cannot determine legal liability or the undisclosed reason for a risk decision.

Thanks
