We have three definitions of active customer - 2023 control review

Team,

Before this becomes another standing report, can we answer the real question?

Analytics is receiving requests that use the same business term for different populations, dates and customer relationships. The possible stories are that an undocumented exclusion is changing the denominator, that snapshot timing creates the difference, or that the teams need different metrics.

This has returned because the previous answer was useful but not strong enough to become a standing rule. Use March 2023 as the new evidence point rather than recycling the earlier conclusion. The operating teams agree that more journeys are failing; they disagree on whether the customer, the bank or a downstream party owns the failure.

Please prepare a working Excel file with the exception population and clear columns. The output must help us decide the governed definition, owner, exclusions and reconciliation bridge.

Data available: monthly account snapshots, status events, limits, product enrolments and signatories; monthly customer and KYC snapshots; transaction-level timestamps, channels, amounts, statuses and error context.

Please state the limitation plainly: A technically consistent definition still needs business ownership and approval.

Thanks
