Where did the process override its own rule? - 2025 control review

Hi team,

Audit is testing whether approvals, declines, restrictions and collections outcomes are consistent with recorded policy inputs.

This has returned because the previous answer was useful but not strong enough to become a standing rule. Use October 2025 as the new evidence point rather than recycling the earlier conclusion. There is no confirmed problem yet; this is a request to test an assumption before it becomes policy.

Can you test these explanations rather than choosing one at the start?

- a channel or period has a materially different decision pattern
- overrides are rare and explainable
- missing data looks like an override

The decision is the sample for process-owner walkthroughs and policy evidence. Please give us a control view with the exceptions, owner and reason each item was included.

You should be able to build the evidence from the latest closed loan files available by the request date, including affordability, pricing and origination risk fields; monthly account snapshots, status events, limits, product enrolments and signatories; collections cases, promises to pay and recovery payments; monthly customer and KYC snapshots. The files do not contain every approval authority or policy version; flag unexplained differences rather than declaring misconduct.

Thanks
