

Statement delays add noise to month-end finance controls

By Ed Stoddard | 07 January 2020

Finance documents and bank statement checks on a desk

Finance teams say timing differences between internal ledgers and bank statements remain a stubborn month-end control issue. Bank charges, interest, withholding tax and late postings are increasingly being separated from genuine reconciliation breaks.