KB 202404 early warning idea

Hi Analytics,

Could we test a simple early warning view for repayment stress?

I am thinking of customers who had failed debits, low balances, fees piling up, or a sudden change in transaction behaviour. It does not have to be a full model yet.

Can you start with a rough dashboard showing the top risk customers and the reason they were flagged?

Please separate actual affordability stress from operational delays. Otherwise Credit will chase the wrong customers.
